Summary

I have more than 1.5 years of experience in commercial Frontend development, during which I have worked extensively with HTML, CSS, JavaScript and the Vue.js/Nuxt.js framework. I specialise in developing projects of various sizes, focusing on creating new landing pages and components, implementing the necessary logic and functionality, and working with existing codebases. I have experience in all stages of the development lifecycle, from initial design to final deployment. In my chosen field, I find inspiration in the opportunity to continually develop and refine my skills, ultimately aiming to deliver maximum value to the business.
